

University of Zurich ^{UZH}

ETH zürich

UZH / ETH Zürich Network on Interdisciplinary Climate Research

Open topic workshop and network meeting, 25 October 2016

UZH Zentrum, room KOL-E-13, 13:00 – 17:30

13:00

Welcome and introduction to workshop

13:10

Léonore Hälg, Energy Politics Group, ETH Zürich:

Understanding the interactions of deployment policy design on renewable energy technology diffusion – An empirically calibrated and dynamic investment decision model

13:30

Carmenza Robledo, Transdisciplinary Lab, Climate Policy Group, ETH Zürich:

Research gaps on impacts of bioenergy on sustainable development

13:50

Axel Michaelowa, Political Economy and Development, UZH / Perspectives:

Design of upscaled crediting mechanisms under the Paris Agreement

14:15 Coffee Break

14:45

Katharina Michaelowa, Political Economy and Development, UZH:

The allocation of climate aid: New wine in old bottles?

15:05

Veruska Muccione, Climate and Environment: Impacts, Risks and Adaptation, Dept of Geography, UZH:

Differentiating regions for adaptation financing – the role of global vulnerability and risk distributions

15:25

Christian Huggel, Climate and Environment: Impacts, Risks and Adaptation, Dept of Geography, UZH, and Ivo Wallimann-Helmer, Center of Ethics, UZH:

How could climate policy deal with loss and damage? An attribution and justice perspective

Short break

16:00

Network meeting, including a round of current ongoing projects and activities by network members

17:30

Conclusion

⇒ Please register (no fee) for the event until 17 October with: martina.zahno@pw.uzh.ch